

'Twas The Day Before Winter Break

'Twas the day before winter break, when all thru the school not a test was being taken, not even a scale being used.

The backpacks were hung on the hooks with care
in hopes that dismissal would soon be there.

The children were ready for 16 days off to sleep in their beds while teachers had visions of lesson plans dance in their heads.

And the Principal ready for observations to be done and the school to be just number one.

We were all ready for our long winter's nap
when out in the parking lot we heard a great clap.

A big bundle of toys were dropped off for the good little girls and boys.

The holiday break is here and we are off without shedding a tear.

Now students, now teachers, now staff, and parents have a wonderful vacation and in January be ready for more education!

From our School Family to Yours.....
Happy Hanukkah, Merry Christmas, Feliz Navidad, Happy Kwanzaa, and Happy New Year...See you next year!
